

William McMichael

Assistant Professor of the Faculty of Economics and Business Administration of Fukushima University, and responsible for the international program of the International Exchange Center of the university

Born in Canada. Living in Fukushima City. Working as a father. He has managed and run the “Fukushima Ambassadors Program,” training program for students of foreign universities and Fukushima University to travel around Fukushima Prefecture together for two weeks, more than 10 times. In his activities, he occasionally had the bitter works being blamed, "You kill students!" because of ignorance of Fukushima's real condition. He also made efforts together with other foreigners living in Fukushima Prefecture to resolve misunderstandings when false rumors about Fukushima's condition and decommissioning spread in foreign countries.